

32 Battalion soldiers v 1.15

1 GENERAL

32 Battalion was the premier Unit of the Old South African Defence Force. From its inception in 1975 until it's disbandment in the 1990's it was the most feared Unit by it's foes in Angola and South West Africa, and accounted for more enemies than any other Unit of the South African Defence Force.

Known as "Os Terriveis - "The Terrible Ones" by SWAPO, FAPLA and their Cuban Allies, this nickname became a proud one indeed.

32 Battalion troops in the different webbing variations and “Summer Cammo” uniforms worn during the South West Africa – Angola Border War commonly known as the Bush War (circa 1982). Includes soldiers with the R1 (FN FAL) and R4 (Galil) weapon layouts.
